Today's Hastings is a hive of creativity – and its huge arts community is at the very heart of the town's character and prosperity.

The arts forum works to develop and promote that culture, placing the arts at the centre of the town's regeneration plans, raising funds for new initiatives, and promoting artists – across the full spectrum – with exhibitions, talks, seminars, magazines, information bulletins and campaigns.

Help us in that work by joining the arts forum. For a small annual membership fee you can not only gain access to the full range of services and facilities we provide, but actively support us in our work to build Hastings as a major centre for the arts in the region, nationally and internationally.
